Lessons Learned From Previous Submissions

According to lessons learned from previous submissions, take care to avoid the following mistakes:

- Companies with a tax id code containing the number "1" (one) in the ninth digit, i.e. xxxxxxxx-1-xx are VAT exempt. No VAT tax should be indicated for these companies.
- VAT tax rates are either 12%, 25% or exempt. VAT tax rates for a single invoice may be between 0-25% in cases where different portions of the goods and services were taxed at 12% or 25% or were exempt. Provide a calculated column on the spreadsheet indicating the VAT %. Use this column to check that no reimbursement requests are above 25%. Recheck any individual invoices that show up on your spreadsheet with VAT % between 0% and 25% and not 12% to insure that these are indeed invoices with mixed VAT percentages and not merely errors.
- VAT tax is 25% for all goods and services, except,
 - VAT tax is 12% for common items such as pharmaceutical products and delivery fees.
 - VAT tax is exempt for common items such as: exported goods, intellectual services performed by an individual (i.e. - self-employed translators).
- To calculate the VAT portion of a bill, take 20% of the total billed amount on invoices with 25% VAT rates. Take 10.71% of the total billed amount on invoices with 12% VAT rates.

For example, if your total invoice is for HUF 100 and the invoice indicates 25%:

$\text{HUF } 100 \times 20\% = \text{HUF } 20.$

The invoice net of VAT is HUF 80, the VAT is HUF 20 (25% of HUF 80) and the total invoice is HUF 100.

- Provide your spreadsheet submission in Hungarian Forint currency.
- Review your spreadsheet to insure that no transactions are listed twice.
- Proper invoices should contain:
 - Company Name and Tax Id Number
 - Invoice Date and Invoice Number
 - VAT Percentage and Amount Clearly Indicated
 - Purchaser as U.S. Force or U.S. Forces by (Appropriate Contractor), in accordance with Paragraph 5 of the Annex, "Implementing Procedures on Financial Matters."
- Cash register receipts are not proper invoices.
- Leased personal property should not contain 25% VAT.
- Leased commercial real property contains 25% VAT. This VAT will only be reimbursed upon submission of proper invoices and spreadsheets.
